Police boss loses Labour's support

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE and Crime Commissioner Ollie Martins has hit back at 'corrupt cowards' within the Labour Party who have called for a ballot to decide who the party's candidate for next year's PCC election will be.

At the meeting in Luton, a trigger ballot was called for by members of the Labour Party in the Luton South constituency instead of supporting Mr Martins.

This is one of a series of constituency meetings on whether Mr Martins should retain the Labour nomination or whether an election for an alternative candidate should be held, which Mr Martins is free to throw his name into the hat for, should it so happen.

Mr Martins said: "I have been an outspoken critic of membership packing in Luton Labour Party so it comes as no surprise that those responsible should seek to exact some measure of revenge in my own re-selection process."

"However, I fully expect to be the Labour candidate for PCC next May."

A senior member of the Labour Party in Luton said that they do not expect Mr Martins to retain the nomination given the feeling about his performance as PCC inside the party. Thursday's vote was a reflection of this, they say.

Mr Martins added: "This week I had both MPs and the Union police rep speaking up for me but they were out-voted by people who only turn up when their vote is needed and who have no other involvement in the work of the party or our campaigns."

"I strongly suspect this is also linked to the sacking of my partner as local Labour organiser. But those involved should note I do not respond well to attempted bullying and intimidation by anonymous and corrupt cowards."

On what impact the vote will have on Mr Martins' nomination, Luton Borough councillor Sian Timoney, a member of the Luton South branch of the Labour Party, said: "It's far too early to tell."

"There are other meetings to come and this one alone is not enough for there to be a trigger ballot."

Conservative PCC nominee, Kathryn Holloway said: "Even Jeremy Corbyn's Labour Party seem to understand that you can't reward failure."

"Unfortunately Mr Martins' term hasn't just been marked by being accident prone but by repeated failures, whether it was a referendum which cost the taxpayer £600,000 or a breach of confidence which saw him temporarily suspended from his party."

Ex-Hatter in court over taxi attack

AN EX-LUTON striker head-butted a taxi driver at the end of a club's end of season dinner celebrations, a jury heard this week. Ricky Miller, who has left the club, is alleged to have attacked the driver after he refused to take him any further because of the abuse he was receiving. Taxi driver Mohammed Adnan said the player called him a "Paki c...". He said when he told the 27-year-old footballer he would call the police, Mr Miller replied: "I will stab you and stab the police officers". Mr Miller has denied all charges of racially aggravated assault and assault by beating. The case is still on-going.

Secondary schools top in the region

NEW figures released by Ofsted put Luton in a good light in terms of secondary school standards.

Overall 92 per cent of Luton children now attend a secondary school that has been rated good or better by Ofsted. This is the highest of all the eastern region authorities and well above the England average of 77 per cent.

However, despite the results, Luton Borough Council has stated there is still room for improvement.

Councillor Mahmood Hussain, portfolio holder with responsibility for children and young people said: "This is excellent news for Luton's children, however there is no room for complacency."

"Our main goal is for every child in the town to attend a good or outstanding primary or secondary school and we will continue to strive to achieve this goal."

The council says part of the reason for the success is schools working together.

Despite the high score for secondary schools, the borough's primary schools are falling behind with just 79 per cent attending a school which is good or better, with work to be done to match the performances of secondary schools in the town.

However, Central Bedfordshire performed well in this category, with 88 per cent of pupils attending a good or outstanding school, which ties for third in the country.

Editor's Letter

'Tis the season not to worry, fa-la-la-la

MY dad says pork, my boyfriend says goose, then there is my meat-free friend who insists nutroast is the way forward.

But surely turkey is the answer? I have just agreed to host my family for Christmas and I am now developing festive fears I have never had to deal with before. This is uncharted territory. I am ashamed to say, having been treated to Christmas at various relatives' homes over the years, my hardest decision has been chocolate-selection-box-shaped: Curly-Wurly or Freddo before breakfast?

Seeing our very own star baker switch on the lights this week (see pages 22-23) was a stark reminder that Christmas is rapidly on the approach.

And despite my worries about what to cook, I know there will be nothing more important than the people sat around me. Christmas means many different things to many different people, but friends and family are what really matter (that's what I am telling myself anyway).

Sarah Cox

Christmas off with a bang!

CELEBRATIONS for the first lucky winners of the Luton Christmas Cracker took place on Saturday, with Claire Makepeace and Alessandra Catania meeting Great British Bake Off winner Nadiya Hussain on the steps of the town hall, just before she switched on Luton's Christmas lights.

Christmas came early for the lucky residents after Claire won a £250 shopping voucher for the town centre business of her choice, while Alessandra need never miss a blockbuster again with a year's free admission to the Cineworld cinema.

A third winner, Neli Gogishvili also won a £250 voucher.

Three more lucky Luton residents had their Christmas prayers answered in this week's draw. Saliha Patel had a baby girl just four weeks ago and said her £250 voucher couldn't have come at a better time.

"There are so many things to buy with a new baby - nappies, toiletries, things like that - so it's just perfect to have won the Luton

SAY CHEESE: Nadiya Hussain with Luton Cracker winners Alessandra Catania and Claire Makepeace

Christmas Cracker. I'm so happy!"

Sabina Islam, the second name out of the hat, was also looking forward to be able to treat friends and family with her voucher.

"I'm absolutely ecstatic, I can't believe I've actually won," she said. "I love Luton town centre, I'm there every day. I'm a huge fan of Playstation 4 so I've chosen GAME and I'm going to get myself the new Call of Duty. I'm going to be able to get my friends some things as well, which is amazing. It's such a great prize draw."

A third winner, Lisa Taplin, has been awarded a year's membership for The Gym.

The draw has been funded and organised by Luton Business Improvement District (BID). In total, eight winners will each receive a £250 voucher to spend anywhere they choose in the town centre, while a further four winners will walk away with gift cards donated by local businesses.

Gavin O'Brien, chairman of the Luton BID board, said the BID has been 'delighted' with the response to the Luton Christmas Cracker.

Is yours the winning ticket? Three draws remain. Tickets can be found in shops and businesses around the town centre.

Calls for tougher line against banned group

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carlmungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE have been asked to do more to combat the 'disruptive' presence of ex-members of the banned extremist group Al-Muhajiroun following terror arrests this week.

Four men from Luton are in custody after early morning raids on Wednesday morning saw officers search seven houses and a number of vehicles.

Since the arrests, Luton on Sunday has spoken to members of the town's Muslim community who said they were 'frustrated' that no action seemed to be taken against ex-Al-Muhajiroun members who regularly distribute extremist literature in Bury Park. The group was banned in 2010 but some of its ex-members still live and operate in Luton.

Tanvir Munir, general secretary of Luton Central Mosque, said they 'worked in a grey area' which did not break the law.

He said: "They speak outside our mosque but they do not even pray at our mosque. "The imams are trying to expose what they are saying and with the recent events we are trying to talk to tackle them. But with freedom of speech, the police know who they are and we ask the police: 'why don't you arrest them?' The issue is that they are not crossing the line, they are just near the line."

Akbar Khan, of community cohesion group Building Bridges, said the police had to be more 'pro-active' but added that extremists were a 'product of our failures over the years'. He said: "I am in agreement that the Muslim community has failed itself by not standing up to extremism in our town. The difficulty we now face is that these extremists operate through intimidation and secret cells."

Bedfordshire Police said: "We are aware of concerns about the distribution of such literature and carry out regular high visibility patrols in the area at specific times in order to disrupt such activity."

POLICING IN ACTION: Counter terror officers smashed open the front door of this property in Ferndale Road, Luton

Town's anger at Liddle bomb jibe

RESIDENTS have hit back after a Sunday Times columnist suggested that the UK would be better off bombing Luton than Syria this week.

Rod Liddle, who has also written for The Sun and The Spectator, made the remarks in a column last weekend.

The piece, headlined:

'I'm all for vexing Corbyn but we'd be better off bombing Luton' drew a serious reaction from a number of people including MP for Luton South Gavin Shaker and Luton Council of Faiths, who invited Mr Liddle to visit the town in a letter.

One part of the letter from the Council of Faiths read: 'The article blankets nearly 50,000 Muslim residents as followers of a radical Islam which poses a danger to Britain.'

'Even in sarcasm, to call for the bombing of a whole town is truly shocking.'

A spokeswoman for The Sunday Times said: "Rod Liddle's column was an opinion piece suffused with irony and exaggeration to make his serious point that he doesn't agree with bombing Isis in Syria."

"Rod is not calling for Luton to be bombed but is arguing that bombing Isis is even more illogical than bombing Luton, which no government would remotely contemplate."

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this*often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerves often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

According to Peter, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Your invitation for a comprehensive consultation and examination to pinpoint the cause of your low back pain and sciatica...

Luton on Sunday has teamed up with the spine therapy specialists at Atlas Wellness Centre, to help readers find relief from their persistent back and sciatic pain.

All you have to do to receive a thorough diagnostic examination with the most advanced technology in the world and a comprehensive easy to understand report on your state of health is call 01234 340317.

Mention this article (CODE: LOS43SCID5) and Atlas will happily reduce their usual consultation fee of £245 to just £43. But hurry, due to obvious reasons – this is a time limited offer – with only 100 reader consultations available at this exclusively discounted rate.

My advice, don't suffer a moment longer...

Find out if Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care can help you, book a consultation with Peter and his team now by calling 01234 340317, they are waiting to take your call today.

They actually treat the cause of your health problem, not just your symptoms.That's why hundreds of grateful patients tell them "You gave me back my life!"

Over the years, they've treated thousands of patients with back problems and sciatica. The vast majority of them have enjoyed superior, lasting relief. In fact, many who've suffered and have tried other remedies have told them they gave them back their lives!

Call them now and get a full and thorough examination to pinpointthe cause of your problem for just £43, the normal cost of such an exam is £245 so you will save £202!

Don't suffer from the pain and immobility any longer. Discover the natural treatment that can eliminate the cause of your problem and give you the safe, lasting relief you deserve.

Call them now on 01234 340317 and cut out or tear off this valuable article now and take it to your appointment. You'll be entitled to a comprehensive examination to diagnose the cause of your problem – and you'll be on your way to safe, lasting relief! Don't delay your important diagnosis and treatment another moment!

You can even call on the weekend and leave a message on their answer machine to secure your spot as they promise to return all calls; and during the week they are very busy, so if they don't pick up straight away do leave a message.

For obvious reasons they can't help everyone at this reduced price, so please call soon to secure your special opportunity.

Some people prefer to consult directly with Peter Olsson rather than one of his fully trained specialists. While he is under incredible demand it is possible to secure a consultation for just £93. Just ask if he is available

Sciatica Relief Expert Peter Olsson, says: In 10 years of practice, I've never seen a treatment as effective as Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care for patients with sciatica or lower back pain

Director to leave after suspension

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carlmungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SENIOR council director suspended for allegedly verbally abusing a councillor from a neighbouring authority will leave in the New Year.

Colin Chick, Luton Borough Council's regeneration corporate director for more than 13 years, is said to be leaving to 'pursue other interests'.

A statement published on the authority's intranet system this week said his last day would be on January 16.

Mr Chick has not been at work since a complaint was made by Councillor Richard Stay, from Central Bedfordshire, about comments made during the Municipal Journal Awards in London on June 18 this year.

Mr Stay said Mr Chick had been 'successful' in attracting investment to the town but added that 'some of his personal traits have brought Luton Council into disrepute'.

He said: "I have received no apology or confirmation that my complaint has been upheld and I find it very unsatisfactory."

"If you make a complaint to a public body and if they deal with it through the proper procedures, you expect there to be an outcome and to be told whether or not it has been upheld. I have not received one and it feels like a whitewash."

A senior Luton councillor, who did not wish to be named, told Luton on Sunday that a 'large group' of Labour councillors had been 'trying to get rid of Colin for ages'.

Luton Council did not comment when asked about the status of Mr Stay's complaint.

A council spokesman said: "Colin has been a committed and enthusiastic member of Luton Council's senior team and we wish him the very best for the future."

Pair facing trial over murder of 13-month-old

A LUTON man and woman appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court on Thursday charged with the murder of a 13-month-old boy.

Hardeep Hunjan,

26, and Ronnie Tayler-Morrison, 21, of Crawley Road, Luton, were charged yesterday in connection with the sudden death of the child in the early hours of Saturday, November 21.

The child was taken from a property in Crawley Road to Luton and Dunstable Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 4.10am. The pair appeared before the court on Thursday, being remanded in custody pending an appearance at Luton Crown Court.

Shane Putney with Mrs Shukra

Mr & Mrs Shukra of Ravenbank Road, Luton chose Kingsbourne Windows to replace their draughty old wooden window frames.

Mr Shukra says "with so many glazing companies out there, we wanted a local long established company that make their own 'A' rated products at a price we could afford. Families' tributes to lost loved ones

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE relatives of three people who died in a crash near Toddington on Tuesday have spoken of their heartbreak.

Casey Flissikowski, 18, of Felmersham Road, Luton, Rebecca Nabarro, 23, of Stephens Close, Luton, and Stephen Evans, 20, of Walcot Avenue, Luton, were tragically killed following the collision on the B530 Fancott at 11.18pm.

A statement made by the family of Stephen Evans said: "We are completely devastated at the loss of Stephen. He was a very much loved son, brother and grandson and will be completely missed by all of his family and friends. We are thinking of the other families going through this difficult time."

Rebecca Nabarro's family said: "Rebecca was completely adored by all in her family. "The messages we have had from all of her many friends just goes to show how much she was loved and will be missed."

Casey Flissikowski's family said the 18-year-old was a 'beautiful, hard-working girl' who would be 'forever missed'. Principal at South Academy, Cathy Barr, paid tribute to former student Casey saying that staff at the school were 'devastated' at her tragic death.

A 19-year-old man and 65-year-old man have been treated for non-life-threatening injuries.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the incident, involving a silver Vauxhall Corsa and a red Jaguar, to come forward.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Sergeant Stef Crichton on 101.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Pram waits for no mum

A MUM who had to hold her six-month-old son and hand luggage for an hour at airport security because she was not allowed to have her pram is calling for change.

Yael Tankel, 28, had arrived in Luton on November 18 on an easyJet flight when she was told she could only get her pram at baggage reclaim.

She said she had to hold her 8.5kg son Yotam, his nappy bag and her laptop bag whilst 'struggling' down the stairs.

She added: "By the time we got to baggage reclaim our buggy was waiting there and I was grateful for that as my arms were really hurting me and my son was exhausted."

An easyJet spokesman said inbound passengers collected prams from baggage reclaim as it was faster and 'away from the busy airfield'. He said safety was the 'highest priority' but added that easyJet 'apologised for any inconvenience caused'.

UN-NAPPY LANDINGS: Yael Tankel with her son, Yotam, after airport ordeal

Concerns over kids playing in the road

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

RESIDENTS have warned that children who are playing in the road because their old recreation space has been replaced by houses are risking 'serious injury'.

Last year Luton Borough Council agreed to build 54 houses and two flats on green space in Ickley Close.

The first batch of new tenants moved in this summer, but an area of open land behind the development which was meant to be available this summer is not yet ready.

Councillors agreed on Wednesday to delay the opening of the land for further work but locals have criticised the development which they say has taken away green space.

Robin Wright, a resident who has lived in the area for 30 years, said: "The kids are playing on the main road now. Some kids are going to be killed because it is chaos and things will only get worse."

Another resident, John Tiseo, said: "The kids have nowhere to play. They play in the road and I do not blame them, they have nowhere else to go. When my kids grew up they had somewhere to play."

A council spokesman said the town had 'significant housing needs' and added that the delayed open space would 'in the long term benefit all'.

DOZYPARKERS

Blind spot

RESIDENTS in Carlton Crescent will no doubt be exasperated by the sight of white vans, of which this is a prime example, making themselves at home on this blind spot.

This snap was sent in by one of our readers who was keen to highlight the issue.

We can only hope that the culprit will see their exploits highlighted in this bit of unwanted publicity and change their ways as a result.

Luton
on sunday

READALLOVER

THIS week reporter Jenna Huther from our sister paper Bedfordshire on Sunday, took some time out from her busy schedule to catch up with what's going on in the south of the county - while decorating the office Christmas tree.

In fact Jenna's so keen she's going to be out with the police on the beat in Luton tomorrow so keep an eye out for her in next weekend's paper!

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: NICK SMITH

With a potentially crucial decision made this week at the House of Commons, reporter Nick Smith gives his take on the Syria vote and the events surrounding it, which sees the British military back in the thick of it in the Middle East once more.

WHILE undoubtedly a complex issue, it was disappointing to see the House of Commons vote to approve air strikes on Syria this Wednesday.

The vote came despite an ever increasing public opposition to military intervention and without, at least in my opinion, a convincing or clear argument which deemed military intervention as the best possible course of action.

For that, I'd like to say well done to Luton MPs Gavin Shuker and Kelvin Hopkins for voting against action in Syria.

It was equally disappointing given the state of affairs surrounding the debate on Wednesday.

While it was good to see so many people expressing an opinion, rightly so given the importance of the event, there was a toxic feeling around the entire debate.

Most prominent being anti-war campaigners harrassing staff at Walthamstow MP Stella Creasy's office in an attempt to get her to change her position on the vote, in addition to holding protests outside her office.

Whatever your views, we live in a democracy and there's simply no place for that.

Aside from the nastiness, it felt like only half a debate was being had.

What got to me most about regarding military intervention was the prevailing theme that the options we, as a country, had, were limited to a binary.

The options presented appeared to be either bomb Syria or let Daesh carry on doing as they are with no opposition.

The extent of this was that when it was announced that from a poll of Labour Party members 75 per cent were opposed to air strikes, that I saw people genuinely saying on social media that this was tantamount with supporting the actions of ISIS, which could not be further from the truth.

Many other alternatives than military action were on the table, such as economic pressures, which were never explored in as much depth as military intervention.

I might be as bold enough as to say that whatever the outcome of the debate the result was a forgone conclusion.

While it may be proven necessary in coming years, it's hard to justify on such little evidence particularly with Great Britain's, and the west as a whole's, pretty awful record in the Middle East never far from thought.

Most prominent is the Iraq War which we were led into with America at our side, but look back almost 100 years and you can see the start of the problems Western intervention in the Middle East has caused.

Coupled with calls from Syrian citizens to cease attacks, it makes this a very bitter pill to swallow.

I may be proven wrong in the coming months or years but right now both the result of the debate and the manner in which it came about, are hard to justify.

Your Luton Letters on sunday

More is coming our way

LAST week the police and crime commissioner continued to complain at length that all the ills of Bedfordshire Police are still due to funding, barely acknowledging that he now expects a full 20 per cent more in his budget than had been expected, following the chancellor's freeze on police cuts.

In addition to this, £900 million is being added to the central police grant which includes a portion for increased firearms training, which is available to all. We will know our share of this before Christmas.

There is also another key opportunity here which is being ignored: police funding will be allocated on the basis of increasing efficiency and reforming the police, especially by working more closely together with other emergency services. The Government will give extra funding to those forces which have strong proposals in these areas; if Mr Martins does not we will continue to lose out. I have already proposed working with the fire service to share facilities in areas like Ampthill and Bedford, which have lost their police stations, which is precisely the type of initiative required to win an increased share.

It is entirely true that Bedfordshire Police is sitting on largely redundant buildings whose sale could help. Greyfriars Station in Bedford was earmarked for decommissioning over a year ago and Leighton Buzzard's station has been considered over-sized for its needs for a decade.

Bedfordshire at its best

CONGRATULATIONS to all who made the first Bedfordshire Day the success it was.

Organisations as varied as the John Bunyan Museum and the Leighton Buzzard Brewery put on special events. Let us hope that next year even more groups will get behind this celebration of our county.

Thanks to Friends of Bedfordshire for co-ordinating the day, and particularly to Luke Blackstaffe for his energy and leadership.

From an early morning interview on Three Counties Radio, via Bedford and Eaton Socon, to a well earned pint at Leighton Buzzard, he travelled the county inspiring those involved.

We look forward to Bedfordshire Day 2016.

Cash there for PCC staff

BEDFORDSHIRE electors were gently reprimanded by 'Bedfordborn' last Sunday for not electing to increase the police precept.

Could it be that the electors believed that the commissioner's entourage could be drastically cut and the savings used for the mythical bobby on the beat.

Mr Martins seems to have found monies in the police budget to add to his lengthy list of staff members and value his latest recruit to the tune of £194.10 per day, or £582.32 for each THREE DAY WEEK!

How many Bedford workers earn that for a five or six-day week?

ANOTHER milestone was reached at Vauxhall's manufacturing plant on Kimpton Road when workers built the one millionth Vivaro-type van.

The vehicle marked the latest step in a £185 million investment secured when Luton was given the 10-year contract to build the Vivaro last year.

Vauxhall chairman Rory Harvey said the van represented the efforts of the 'hard-working and dedicated workforce at Luton'.

Owner hits out at booze opposition

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE owner of an Indian restaurant applying for permission to sell alcohol with late night takeaways has spoken out to reassure residents concerned it will not cause more anti-social behaviour.

Alankar Restaurant, in Dunstable Road, is licensed to sell alcohol for consumption off the premises until 12am but its management wants to extend that to 2am.

Owner Kamal Malik said there was a demand for the service as he was unable to serve customers who made orders after midnight which included an alcoholic drink.

Residents against the licence have started a petition and have written in stat-

COUNTER CLAIM: Mr Malik said his customers are not responsible for anti-social behaviour.

A separate objection has come from Reverend David Kesterton, from All Saints Church in Shaftesbury Road, who said street drinking was a 'problem'. He said: "There are a large number of young children in this community who are put at risk by the discarded and broken bottles and cans on the pavements in this area. Children from the nearby primary school at Beech Hill and children's centre next door have to walk along surrounding roads near to the Alankar premises."

"Permission to sell alcohol from here, including a late night licence, will make the situation worse."

Mr Malik said nearby off-licences are the problem: "This is not like the off-licence. We are a popular restaurant with lots of bookings."

"While we are here and the lights are on, there are no troublemakers. They are coming after we go."

Public rallies to raise funds for The Bear Club

A MUSIC club is already more than half way towards raising the £9.4k needed to stay open after being served with an excessive noise notice.

The Bear Club was handed the notice by Luton Borough Council earlier this week and the nightspot is looking to raise cash for soundproofing.

Justin Doherty, owner of The Bear said: "We have been served the Noise Abatement Notice by the council, so that's something for the mantlepiece, and something that means we must not be loud again. Can we stay open? Yes, we think so."

"But rather than restrict ourselves to bands without drums, saxophones and electric guitars we have to sound proof as best we can."

Donating through crowdfunding, supporters already raised more than 50 per cent of the sum.

Bake Off's Nadiya causes a big stir

GREAT British Bake Off winner Nadiya Hussain was back at her old High School on Tuesday offering a baking class to students.

After giving a talk during an assembly at Challney High School for Girls about her success and her time at the school, a lucky group of pupils joined her for a baking masterclass, making scones and lemon drizzle cake.

On the visit, Nadiya said: "It's great to be back if not a bit strange given how much has changed, but I still feel a real connection to the school and Luton."

MASTERCLASS: Nadiya Hussain passing her knowledge to a pupil during a visit back to her old school

School is set to be closed a year early

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE closure of a middle school has been brought forward by a year because of falling pupil numbers.

Central Bedfordshire Council will shut Brewers Hill Middle School, Dunstable, in August next year instead of August 2017 as first planned.

Last year councillors voted to shut Brewers Hill, along with Ashton Middle School and Streetfield Community

Middle School, because low pupil numbers meant they were 'no longer educationally or financially viable'. The decision was opposed by parents and pupils at the time.

The council's proposal to defer Brewers Hill's closure date had been due to uncertainty over nearby Beecroft Academy's application to convert to a primary school.

Councillor Mark Versallion said: "Due to Beecroft only receiving permission to convert to a primary school on June 3, 2015, it wasn't until the start of the current academic year that definite Year 5 numbers were known at Beecroft and Brewers Hill.

"Parents and carers of current Brewers Hill pupils and staff at the school were consulted on proposals to bring forward the closure date; no responses were received by the close of the consultation.

"The council and school have already offered extensive support to parents and carers of all the children."

Petition pushes for end to 20mph limit

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCIL officers are studying traffic speed data following a petition set up by residents calling for a 20mph limit to be reviewed.

Central Bedfordshire Council said it is looking at injury collision data after concerns were raised that the low speed limit on busy roads in Dunstable made the area more dangerous.

The petition was started online by resident Emma Roe who said the 20mph limit made some drivers 'very impatient' and caused them to drive dangerously.

On the petition, she said: "I and many others I have spoken with have found that when adhering to the 20mph speed limit, that other drivers become very impatient as they were not willing to stick to this limit too, causing them most of the time to perform dangerous overtaking."

"I have also been coming from the opposite direction when a driver is overtaking somebody else adhering to 20mph, which saw me narrowly avoid a head on incident on more than one occasion."

A council spokesman said: "We are studying all areas for speed data and have some results but we still have other areas to collect data from which will happen over the next month."

"We will look at injury collision data which is sent to us from the Department of Transport but that is often six months behind, as police have to prepare their reports. As Central Bedfordshire Council is yet to receive the petition regarding 20mph we would be unable to comment at this moment in time."

Big house has a say in naming of village roads

THIS week Howard Chandler writes about the 'other big house' in Luton...

Stopsley Village was absorbed into Luton in 1933 but is still regarded by many of its inhabitants as a very separate place.

Luton has strong links to Luton Hoo but for Stopsley, the 'big house' is on the Putteridge Bury Estate. Half the land in the parish of Stopsley belonged to the owners of the estate for most of the 19th and 20th centuries.

The road from Putteridge Bury to Stopsley was called Park Road until 1933, when the name was changed to Putteridge Road to avoid confusion with other 'Park' roads in the town. Sowerby Avenue was named in 1932.

The Sowerby family purchased Putteridge Bury in 1788 and the original mansion was destroyed by fire in 1808. A new house was rebuilt in 1911. In 1888 Colonel Sowerby died when he was attacked by his Egyptian stag.

Felix Avenue, a road off of Stockingstone Road, was named in 1928, six years after Sir Felix Cassel moved into Putteridge Bury.

ROYAL DERNGATE & NORTHAMPTON

Light fantastic

LUTONIANS turned out in their droves last Saturday to catch the switching on of the town's Christmas lights - with the button pushed this year by a rather special guest.

Former Challney Girls' School pupil and this year's Great British Bake-Off winner, Nadiya Hussain, returned to her home town to join Mayor Dave Taylor in switching on the lights at Town Hall in George Street.

London Luton Airport Ltd (LLAL) was the principal sponsor of the event which featured a host of exciting activities for all the family including a performance by the Top Hat Choir and the Luton in Harmony Choir.

Cllr Sian Timoney said: "It was great to see so many local sponsors supporting Lighting up Luton and the seasonal family events."

KEECH
CHRISTMAS
STARS

WITH three younger brothers and so plenty of noise, there might not be enough time this Christmas for Callum Slee, from Hawkfields in Luton, to do what he loves best – sleep!

The 12-year-old's parents, Marie, 37, and Wayne Slee, 39, laugh about their son's favourite pastime.

"He loves his sleep," said Marie. "Even with three younger brothers in the house he has no problem dropping off. I'll wake him up in the morning and dress him and he doesn't even open his eyes. We'll put him on the school bus and he drops off again, even his teachers at Woodland Secondary School in Luton have made the odd comment about him not being a morning person."

"He's quite lively when he gets home though, and we hear him giggling to himself in the night. Callum loves his bed as he feels free rather than being confined to his wheelchair," Marie said.

Callum has a rare condition called smooth brain, caused by his brain not developing fully and so it isn't covered in the usual grooves found on a normal brain. He has seizures every day.

"Callum was our first born and I remember Wayne and I saying when we had him, we were the happiest we'd ever been," said Marie. "It wasn't until Callum was 11 weeks-old he had his first seizure and was then diagnosed. To say it came as a shock is an understatement," she said.

"We were apprehensive and had mixed feelings about getting any help for Callum or ourselves from Keech Hospice Care," said Wayne. "Initially, we said we're alright as we are thanks – you think of a hospice and you automatically think of death don't you? But it's not until you go up Bramingham Lane in Luton to Keech, look around and experience it that what you'd pictured in your head as being a pretty bleak place – vanishes," he said.

"As a family, Keech has been brilliant at supporting and caring not only for Callum but all of us,"

NOISY CHRISTMAS: Callum Slee with mum and dad, Marie and Wayne, and brothers Jamie, Nathan and Ryan been a lifeline.

"Christmas in our house will be mayhem and noisy which Callum loves. There will be wrapping paper flying everywhere on Christmas morning. Callum likes the Christmas tree lights so it'll be a noisy, flashing sensory toy from Father Christmas he'll find in his stocking this year," said Marie.

"We visit both of our families on Christmas Day which means two Christmas dinners for us all, which is great," said Wayne.

"Callum loves Frozen – his brothers aren't so keen – but he loves the music and recognises the songs. I guess we'll end up watching that for the millionth time on Christmas night – well, if Callum manages to stay awake that is."

Why we're backing the appeal

THE season of goodwill is almost upon us.

For many, this means heading out to the shops armed with a long list of presents for loved ones.

But goodwill doesn't have to end in the department store.

Just down the road from where you are reading this, doctors and nurses are trying to give children suffering serious illnesses the chance of a future.

And they need our help.

Luton on Sunday has supported Keech Hospice, in Great Bramingham Lane, for many years with donations of craft materials and toys over the festive season.

This year, we are asking for your help to raise vital funds for Keech with our Christmas Stars appeal. Every week between now and Christmas, this newspaper will be telling the story of a Luton child who has been helped by the team at the Hospice. We will be hearing from the families who rely on the service and about what the future holds for these incredible children.

We are asking our readers to donate as much as they can afford by filling in the form below and sending it Freepost to the address below, or by texting KHCS15 and your amount, to 70070.

We will, of course, bring you regular updates to let you know how much we have raised.

Thank you and Merry Christmas!

Lost memories coming back by magic FULL House Theatre returns to Luton Library Theatre this winter with a 'joyful and inventive' new show. Geoff is a retired shoemaker and he and his wife have enjoyed a long and happy life of magic, joy and fantastic shoemaking days. But what was it all those years ago, that made their life so charmed? Geoff remembers that it was something special, a magical night, a secret that only he and his wife shared, but now in his golden years he cannot quite put his finger on it and bring back the memory. Perhaps a visit from some old friends will help him remember? The Full House team's interpretation of a classic fairy tale by the Grimm brothers brings to life two mischievous elves, Poppy and Buster, who end up paying the shoemaker a visit. Luton Culture promise a good time for all: "With original music, puppetry and even a little bit of real magic; family theatre innovators Full House have created a brand new show especially for Luton.

"All the ingredients for a fantastic Christmas show will go into the mix, laughter, song, sparkle and of course that visit from two cheeky, lively little elves. This brand new show promises bucket loads of impish fun."

Tickets start from £8.50 and can be bought by calling 01582 878100.

SHOW

BID wishes you a global Christmas

WORLD STAGE
 LUTON TOWN CENTRE
 NEXT WEEKEND

A TWO-DAY festival of music from around the world will take to the stage in Luton town centre next weekend.

The Christmas World Stage has been organised by Luton Business Improvement District (BID) and is set to bring a 'diverse mix of festive fun' to the town centre, with the sound of music set to ring out from Market Hill from 12noon to 7.30pm on both the Saturday and Sunday.

The packed schedule includes performances from Tina's School of Dance, a few acoustic guitarists, Indian singers, a Polish singer and dancers representing different cultures from around the world.

Gavin O'Brien from creative agency Clearhead is chair of the Luton BID Board, which drives forward activities under the area's new Business Improvement District status.

Gavin said: "What an exciting line-up of music, dance and performance and we are delighted to be organising this event which we hope will bring festive cheer and an added vibrancy to our town centre this Christmas.

"We look forward to welcoming new as well as loyal shoppers to our range of stores and businesses and wish everyone a very happy Christmas."

Luton events manager Frankie Prazer is working with the Luton BID to bring this two day event to life.

Artists from Luton and the surrounding area will include Ryan Prazer, Kasia Wardman, Pravin Somani, Ian Roberts, Madam Kapuscinska, Tina's School of Dance and Phoenix Starr Academy of Dance. The Uppass Gospel Choir (pictured) will close the event with a stunning performance from 7pm on the Sunday.

As well as singing, dancing and playing, artists will all be interviewed by event compere Frankie and asked how they will be spending and celebrating Christmas.

Music will be supplied by Tropical FM TV, a local interactive radio and TV station based in Luton.

Blue prince leads cast of Cinderella

CINDERELLA
 GROVE THEATRE
 DECEMBER 11-
 JANUARY 3

FOLLOWING the success of last year the Grove Theatre panto is back, with Cinderella taking to the stage.

Will Cinderella meet the man of her dreams?
 Will Prince Charming win our heroine's heart?
 And will the Ugly Sisters stop Cinders from going to the ball?

All will be revealed this Christmas, in this spectacular pantomime.

Former Blue star Antony Costa is leading the will be joined on stage by former Eastenders Leslie Grantham (Dirty Den) and Joshua Pascoe (former Ben Mitchell) as the Ugly Sisters.

Antony is no stranger to the Dunstable audience. As part of the national UK tour of Blood Brothers in 2006, the singer performed to packed out theatres across the country, including the Grove Theatre. The Dunstable crowd enjoyed his performance as loveable rogue Mickey Johnstone: a role which he absolutely mastered.

The rest of the cast includes YouTube sensation and comedian Mawaan Rizwan, Jasette Amos, Lucy Reed and Richard Tate.

In addition to this, there's also a fabulous five piece band, stunning sets and costumes, and all the laughs and traditions that panto entails.

Stalls tickets are £24.50 for adults and £20.50 for concessions, while Circle tickets are £20.50 and £16.50 respectively.

Tickets are available by calling 01582 602080 or visiting grovetheatre.co.uk.

What's hot in Luton

Luton-based singer-songwriter RKZ has crossed over the Atlantic to team up with famous New York rapper Chino XL for his latest single, 'They Don't Know'. RKZ describes the song as 'bringing conscientious Hip Hop to the forefront' and discussing the 'problems we currently face as a society, specifically political hierarchy and terrorism'. The new single will be released on December 21 but you can listen to it online by visiting soundcloud.com/RKZUK/tokn

The Hat Factory welcomes R&B legend Geno Washington and the Ram Jam Band for a night of live music. He will be performing a selection of his hits including 'Hi, Hi Hazel', 'Water', 'Tell It Like It Is' and 'Shake, Shake, Senora'. Tickets cost £15 and can be booked by calling 01582 878100.

Sing along to those old time classics with the all ladies group, the Memphis Belles. On Wednesday at the Grove Theatre they will be singing toe-tapping classic tunes from the 40s and 50s in the upper foyer, accompanied by a delicious afternoon tea. Tickets for the show cost £14.50

Apartment fit for a spy

EAGLE-eyed Bond fans will recognise this stunning lakeside villa as the setting for the final scene in Casino Royale when Bond tracks down bad guy Mr White and introduces himself for the first time as "Bond, James Bond".

007 shoots the shadowy leader of secretive organisation Quantum in the knee, although he turns up again in follow-up film Quantum of Solace and again in current blockbuster Spectre.

Villa Gaeta on Italy's Lake Como in San Siro was built in the 1920s by Gino and Adolfo Coppedè for the industrialist Ambrosoli. And if the extensive lake views weren't enough, a mountain backdrop finishes the picture postcard setting for this imposing fortress style detached stone villa complete with turret and frescoes.

The villa is situated away from the main lake road behind gates, in manicured grounds full of paths and benches and has direct beach access along with its own boat dock.

A first-floor apartment in the villa is now for sale which, according to agent gate-away.com, needs some TLC. A bright and spacious kitchen provides a family-friendly eating area, while you could also enjoy the views from its small garden view terrace

The one bedroom, one bathroom apartment has an open-plan living area boasting original features, parquet floors and views from a terrace. Wooden stairs lead to the attic level which houses an en-suite bedroom complete with traditional Tuscan-beamed ceiling. There's also a private garage and shared outdoor pool. The owner is being covert about the price, but it's likely to be around the €650,000 mark.

Home to the father of science fiction

PROG rock epic, The War of The Worlds, is to make its theatrical debut in the West End next year, complete with onstage orchestra conducted by composer Jeff Wayne and Liam Neeson as the journalist resplendent in 3D holography.

Wayne's multi-million selling 1978 album still shifts CDs and DVDs, and a live show has been successfully touring the world for years.

HG Wells wrote the original book in the late 19th century, but a radio play starring Orson Welles famously caused panic in America in 1938, with its sci-fi commentary by two brothers as Earth is invaded by Martians.

Dubbed the father of science fiction, Wells once owned this flat in Chiltern Court in the swanky Marylebone neighbourhood of London, where he and other residents, including friend author Arnold Bennett and political cartoonist David Low, met to debate literary and political issues at a high-brow book club.

The weekly salon debated everything from new novels to political pamphlets and discussions on women's, refugee and worker's rights.

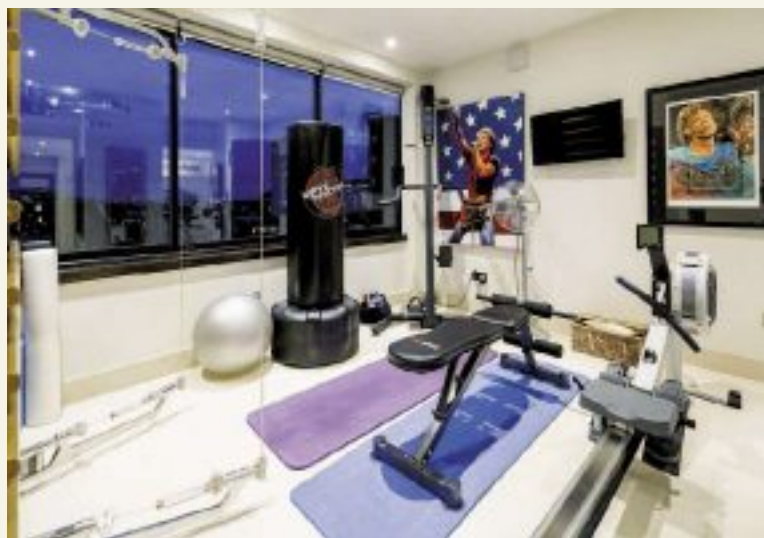

Outside the flat, there's a plaque to Wells, who lived there for six years in the 1930s. The four-bedroom 'lateral flat' is very long and thin, with plenty of natural light thanks to 13 windows across its south facing frontage.

It's had a packet spent on a recent redevelopment and is now on the market for £3.65m. Along one side of the reception room is bespoke shelving, a nod to the rich literary history of the building. The flat also boasts a designer kitchen and 10-seater dining room.

Cinema pad where pop royalty partied

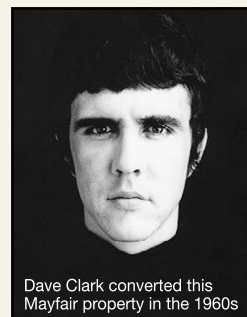

The Dave Clark Five rivalled the Beatles as Britain's most popular band at the height of their fame, with hits such as Bits And Pieces and Glad All Over, before splitting in 1971.

Apart from a brief flurry of publicity around the hi-tech musical Time, which the band's drummer, Dave Clark co-wrote, produced and directed in the 1980s, he's stayed away from the limelight.

A savvy businessman, Clark was the first pop star to own his master tapes; producing records and managing the band himself. He also has a good eye for property, and converted two floors of office space on the sixth and seventh floors above the Curzon cinema in Mayfair into a duplex penthouse in 1967.

Over the next few decades, his

Dave Clark converted this Mayfair property in the 1960s

Grade II listed pad witnessed plenty of star-studded parties where Freddie Mercury, Leo Sayer and Dionne Warwick would regularly tuck into Sunday brunch.

The cinema itself is the stuff of Mayfair legend, hosting royalty, Hollywood stars and celebrities for private screenings. When King George VI, Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses paid their first visit, two royal boxes were installed to mark the occasion.

More recently, it's hosted numerous red carpet premieres, including Dallas Buyers Club with Matthew McConaughey and Jared Leto.

The penthouse's current owners have given the four-bedroom home a stylish makeover. Its large marble-floored reception space has 360 degree views across the capital, there's a private terrace along one side, along with study and gym, underfloor heating and underground parking. It's on the market for £15.5m.

HOT

Where Mick paid lip service

MICK Jagger cosied up to Chrissie Shrimpton in this stylish block in the late 1960s, renting a flat which was supposed to be their first home as newlyweds. However, the young lothario fell for Marianne Faithfull not long after, moving her in instead.

Jackie and Joan Collins also lived at the Edwardian-built Harley House in Marylebone as children, in an area that's long been famous as the place to go for cutting-edge surgery and botox. However, wealthy tourists and Londoners are now flocking to Marylebone which has recently become the city's 'it' destination. House prices have outperformed the rest of central London, according to estate agents, while high-end stores, hotels and clubs are moving in, such as the celebrity-studded eatery, Chiltern Firehouse, a converted fire station which has become a popular hang-out for A-listers such as David Beckham, One Direction and Cara Delevingne.

Now a four-bedroom lateral apartment at Harley House in Marylebone Road has come up for sale at £4.75m.

Formerly one of the first Catholic Institutions to house Irish migrants who moved to London to work as servants for wealthy families, the building is now chuck-full of swanky residences which have access to a private communal garden, 24-hour portage and security.

On the third floor, this apartment has stacks of original features, including ornate cornicing and leaded light windows. There's an adjoining dining room and formal reception room, two bedrooms have en-suite bathrooms, along with a Jack and Jill bathroom connecting the further two bedrooms – and it's all decorated in tasteful neutral tones.

Not a lot of people know this was where Caine lived VETERAN Brit actor Michael Caine admits that challenging roles keep tempting him from retirement.

The octogenarian recently learned how to conduct an orchestra for his latest movie Youth – co-starring Harvey Keitel and Jane Fonda – in which he plays a retired maestro on holiday with no plans to resume his career until he receives a request from the Queen.

Caine, 82, told Variety that keeping things fresh had been the key to his success and confessed that while he has semi-retired from acting, he also has a hard time saying no to really good film roles.

The actor famously left the UK in the 1970s to escape the clutches of the taxman. However, he's since returned and lives in a 200-year-old barn conversion on the outskirts of Leatherhead in Surrey – which he bought for £1m in 1999. He also has a two-bedroom flat in Chelsea Harbour.

While the 60s were swinging, Caine lived in a terraced house near London's Hyde Park, making some of his best-known films, including The Italian Job and Alfie.

Originally two mews houses which have been merged since his time there, this property has been completely refurbished by the current owners, with oak flooring, air conditioning, and designer kitchen.

The gated mews house in cobbled Albion Close is on the market for £4.95m and is spread across three floors, with a library and a study area on the first floor. Its four bedrooms are all en-suite and it comes with off-street parking.

Luton Culture

Luton Culture is a charitable Trust with a focus on heritage, arts, community development and learning. We provide communities and our visitors with inspiring, educational and enjoyable cultural experiences. We do this by animating and managing cultural venues which include museums, theatres, arts centre, gardens, libraries and community centres.

Luton's Wardown Park Museum has been awarded £1.8m from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) to conserve the historic building and transform the way its story is told. The project will see new areas of the building opened up and the ground floor improved and furnished to give visitors an insight into a wealthy family home during the Victorian period - including the Billiard Room, Smoking Room, Library and kitchen whilst also telling the story of Luton's transformation to the exciting and diverse town it is today. The project also aims to inspire future generations to take an active interest in Luton's heritage.

Turismo joins the big time with loads of extra room

Offering family and business users a car to transport seven adults in comfort together with their luggage, the SsangYong Turismo is almost without rival.

At over 5 metres long and with a 3 metre wheelbase, the car is larger than a standard sized MPV people carrier, and is now further enhanced for 2016 with the addition of an upgraded 2.2 litre Euro 6 diesel engine. The Turismo also now offers the choice of a 6-speed manual transmission or new Mercedes-Benz 7-speed automatic.

The newly developed e-XDi220 diesel engine meets the demand for a more powerful performance and lower CO2 emissions at the same time.

Emissions have been reduced to 189g/km, down from 199g/km on the previous 4x2 manual transmission model, while fuel economy is also improved and now up to 39.2 mpg (Combined cycle) compared with 37.2mpg over the model it replaces.

Designed to appeal as family, leisure and business transportation, the new car blends multi-role flexibility with great ride comfort and the appointments and equipment levels of a luxury saloon.

Thanks to its 3,000mm wheelbase, the car provides a huge interior space where seven adults can travel in supreme comfort with their luggage loaded in the back, without having to compromise on passenger accommodation.

There are three rows of seats as well as a large load space which can be further increased by removing the third row completely. This gives a massive load carrying capability of between 875 litres with seven adults seated, through to two adults and 3,146 litres of load space.

While rear wheel drive features on the SE and EX, the top of the range ELX includes selectable 4x4 with low ratio as standard. This makes the Turismo ELX a car you can rely on, no matter what the winter throws at you, and is especially safe and practical whether towing a caravan, horsebox or boat trailer, or when driving on snow and ice. As with other Turismo models the ELX has an impressive 2 tonne towing capability.

The new Turismo utilises double wishbone front suspension and rear independent multi-link suspension for executive saloon style ride quality. This set-up offers a quiet and comfortable driving environment with firm body control, a flat ride and optimum stability regardless of the road conditions.

All models in the SsangYong range are covered by a best-in-class 5 year limitless mileage warranty. Designed to be totally transparent and give customers complete peace of mind, 'limitless' means just that: not a maximum mileage condition that some brands impose in their small print.

SsangYong cars are manufactured in South Korea by SsangYong Motor, which is 73 per cent owned by the Indian engineering conglomerate Mahindra & Mahindra, and imported into the UK by SsangYong Motor UK.

Ford S-MAX

Take a look inside...

People-carrying MPVs do tend towards being a bit boring. They're ostensibly big boxes on wheels and notions of style or handling dynamics don't tend to come very far up the priority list for their manufacturers.

Unless that manufacturer is Ford and that vehicle is an S-MAX. Ford's latest seven-seater offers better handling, greater efficiency and some amazingly clever safety features. It doesn't look like being deposed from its position as our favourite anytime soon.*

We've yet to drive the S-MAX but the early signs look good. The range hinges around a family of 2.0-litre turbodiesel engines, offered in 120PS, 150PS and 180PS guises. The 150PS and 180PS 2.0-litre TDCi S-MAX models get six-speed manual 'boxes as standard but are also offered with Ford's six-speed PowerShift automatic gearbox and are available with intelligent all-wheel drive (i-AWD).

The system continually measures how the car's wheels are gripping the road surface every 16 milliseconds; can adjust power delivery to individual wheels in 100 milliseconds; and can send 100 per cent of available engine torque to the rear wheels. Need more grunt? Try Ford's latest bi-turbo 2.0-litre TDCi engine, which develops 210 PS and 450Nm of torque, delivered from 2,000 rpm.

Petrol engine options include Ford's fuel-efficient 160PS 1.5-litre EcoBoost with manual transmission and the 240PS 2.0-litre EcoBoost with 6-speed automatic transmission. Ford's clever integral link rear suspension helps enhance the signature car-like, sporty driving dynamics with a configuration that features reduced-weight aluminium components. Additional sound-deadening materials and improved door seals contribute to a quieter cabin.

The seats retain the same 2-3-2 layout, this time with no fewer than 32 seating and load-space combinations, as well as Easy-Fold second and third row seats. The system enables each rear seat to be folded flat from a push-button control panel.

You'll have to make your own mind up on the aesthetics, but in every other regard, the latest S-MAX is a big step forward compared to its predecessor. The ethos remains the same, but the execution is a whole lot slicker.

- From £24,545-£32,945

Nissan is leading the electric revolution with more than 550 electric taxis now on the road in Europe. Taxi drivers are some of the most demanding users with the highest mileage, reinforcing the reliability and versatility of Nissan electric vehicles. During 2015 alone, over 100 electric vehicles were delivered to taxi companies across Europe, making Nissan the best-selling manufacturer of 100% electric taxis. The growth of the electric taxi market looks set to continue, as its popularity has started to take hold in Eastern Europe. Green Lite Taxi Kft., based in Budapest, has purchased 65 Nissan LEAFs in a bid to become Hungary's largest zero emission fleet. To power it's the fleet the company has installed seven quick chargers within the city.

El Nev catches us by surprise

TO quote a line from a song that's done rather well in recent months, 'I wasn't expecting that'.

The announcement on Wednesday lunchtime that Gary Neville was to be Valencia's head coach until the end of the season was one that caught everyone on the hop.

As QPR's public pursuit of Jimmy Floyd Hasselbaink showed, managerial negotiations in football can be extremely hard to keep a secret most of the time.

Yet this was an appointment that was completely left-field: a man with no previous managerial experience, already in a lucrative job in the media, taking the plunge at a big club in a foreign country.

A cynical view would be that it shows it's not what you know, but who you know as Valencia are owned by

Wright on SPORTmatt.wright@
lsnmedia.co.uk

mattywright36

Singaporean businessman Peter Lim, who has a 50 per cent stake in Salford City, a club co-owned by Neville.

While the connection is obvious, it surely can't be the only reason Neville was appointed, as the 40-year-old has shown in the last few years, in his role as a Sky Sports pundit, that his knowledge of the game is very deep.

He certainly thought it through when he left his brother Phil, who was already at the Mestalla as assistant manager, to deal with the near-impossible task of stopping Barcelona at the weekend before taking charge.

With so many foreign managers now plying their trade in English football, it makes a change to see someone from these shores heading for the hot seat in a major league abroad.

Hopefully, the former Manchester United defender proves to be more of a success than David Moyes, who was unceremoniously sacked by Real Sociedad in November after an underwhelming year in Spain.

It is also refreshing to see a former player who claimed he wanted to go into management after taking up punditry actually be as good as his word, rather than let the sofa become too comfortable.

It will be interesting following Neville's progress for the rest of the season, and we'll have to see what this means

SHOCK APPOINTMENT: Gary Neville has left his role as a prominent pundit on Sky Sports to become the new head coach at Valencia, a move that no-one saw coming before the news broke on Wednesday for Sky Sports, where he was their best pundit.

Neville helped make Monday Night Football probably the best programme on that station, with his and Jamie Carragher's analysis of the weekend's action often more interesting than the game being shown.

Hopefully, Sky don't go down the route of just shoe-horning another of their stable into the studio – can you imagine 'literally' Jamie Redknapp in that role?

But you have to love the line of The Times' Rory Smith, who wondered if Neville had left "because he wanted Champions League football."

DONE DEAL: Kay Prospere signing on the dotted line with his new promoted Steve Goodwin

Prospere: Bring on Devine

Up-and-coming boxing contender Kay Prospere has targeted fellow Luton fighter Michael Devine after signing a three-year deal with promoter Steve Goodwin.

Prospere has won the first six bouts of his professional career, knocking out four of his opponents, and is now looking to build on his successful start.

His most recent fight, in September, saw him defeat Slovakian Csaba Bolcskei inside the opening round in Bethnal Green.

He is already the mandatory challenger for the Southern Area Light

BOXING

Welterweight title, but the 31-year-old has spread his aspirations further.

Prospere said: "After I win the Southern Area title the one I want is Michael Devine. I am Luton's number one, he is just a pretender and I will expose him and knock him out if he ever gets in the ring with me."

"He knows that, so I am sure he will find a way of avoiding it. The fight could be 'The Battle of Luton' and we could stage it in Luton, summer 2016. Once I beat Devine then it will be English and British titles for me."

"Luton has not had a serious contender since Graham Earl and I aim to be the one to bring big-time boxing back to Luton like Graham and Billy Schwer did".

Devine, 26, has won 13 of his 18 fights and he will next step into the ring against another of Goodwin's stable in the shape of Floyd Moore on the March 5, 2016.

Goodwin said: "Kay is an exciting talent, brings an excitement every time he fights, and will be winning major titles."

Wilkinson: Pressure is on the Posh

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

CENTRE back Luke Wilkinson says an FA Cup second round clash at Peterborough on Sunday will be a "relief" from Luton's League Two worries.

The Hatters have lost their last two games in the fourth tier, conceding seven goals in two quick-fire second half capitulations to Carlisle and Newport.

After starting the league season as one of the favourites for a tilt at the top – following a busy summer signing 12 new recruits – they are languishing in 14th place, six points off the play-offs and a seemingly insurmountable 14 points adrift of an automatic promotion spot.

They will travel to London Road for a 2pm kick-off – that will be part of the BBC highlights package but not televised live – very much as the underdogs against a play-off placed Posh outfit, who are League One's top scorers with 46 goals, including 15 in five games last month, under manager Graham Westley.

"It might be a little bit of a relief," said Wilkinson, who returned at the weekend after missing the Carlisle defeat, adding: "We can go there and there's no pressure on us. All the pressure is on Peterborough."

"If we go there, get a win then it can give the lads a lot of confidence if we go there and get a result

because they are in a league higher than us."

Though Luton have flattered to deceive in the league, they have put in some of their best performances of the campaign in knockout competitions, beating Championship Bristol Rovers in the Capital One Cup and then taking Premier League Stoke City to penalties in the following round.

In the Johnstone's Paint Trophy they also disposed of Leyton Orient, who were flying high at the top of League Two at the time, before getting edged out in the next stage by League One high-flyers Gillingham.

"We have been good in the cups this year," Wilkinson said, adding: "You could say we've got League One players in our squad. Hopefully we go there [Peterborough] and put in a good performance for the fans that are going and get a win."

One thing Luton must try to correct is their inability to win games after conceding the first goal. It's almost 18 months since they did so and that was in the Conference as they romped to the title with 100 goals and points. Since then they have taken just eight points from a possible 84 in the league.

But Wilkinson said: "If we go 1-0 down we always believe that we can get back in it because we've got the players to do that, but at the minute it just doesn't seem to be quite happening for us at one end or the other. We have to keep working hard in training and hopefully things will turn around."

Dunstable put Bideford to the sword

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

DUNSTABLE Town walked to victory over visiting Bideford Town yesterday with a 5-0 win at Creasey Park.

The Blues had the majority of the play in the first half but it took until the 41st minute to break the deadlock when James Kaloczi struck.

The hosts doubled their advantage on the stroke of half time when Gary Wharton found the net.

After the restart Dunstable were back on the offensive and got a third in the 67th minute with number nine Connor Calcutt adding his name to the scoresheet.

Lee Roache then made it four before Calcutt completed the rout in stoppage time.

The win sees Dunstable move up to seventh in the Evo Stik Premier Division.

A tier below in the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central, Barton Rovers were handed a 3-0 away defeat at the hands of Chalfont St Peter.

The visitors found themselves under the cosh from the off and their defence was only able to hold the visitors for 14 minutes and were 2-0 down with just 19 played.

Soon after the break Chalfont had an unassailable 3-0 lead capitalising on a defensive mix up.

In the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division AFC Dunstable travelled to Stotfold and put 5 past their hosts without reply, with BJ Christie netting a hat-trick.

LUTON TOWN

BY MATT WRIGHT

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town's FA Cup tie with Peterborough on Sunday afternoon will see several of their staff head back to their old stomping ground, where one of them, Craig Mackail-Smith, found the net with regularity.

Mackail-Smith scored 99 goals in 212 games in what was a prolific four-and-a-half year spell at London Road that saw the Posh rise from League Two to the Championship.

It was there he established himself in the Football League after signing for Dagenham & Redbridge in January 2007, then managed by current Hatters boss John Still.

The 31-year-old was reunited with Still when he moved to Kenilworth Road in the summer after his release from Brighton, and may start in a game Luton go into as underdogs.

Mackail-Smith said: "I went there and I kind of made myself a name, we won three promotions in four years and I scored the bulk of my goals in my career there."

"It definitely made me into the player that I am today and a lot of people I know are still at the club, so I'm looking forward to going back there and doing a professional job for Luton."

Mackail-Smith has struck three times for Town so far this season, although he last found the net in September. This can be partly explained by the fact that he has had to deal with issues with his hamstring – he has only recently returned from a spell out of action because of it.

Luton's frustrating campaign, which has had a couple of upturns in form, took a turn for the worse last week as defeats to Carlisle and Newport left them languishing in mid-table, a long way off the automatic promotion spots they were tipped to challenge for.

Mackail-Smith believes travelling to Peterborough can provide a welcome break from their frustrations in the league. He said: "The league hasn't quite gone as we wanted it to, the last two games haven't planned out so this gives us that break to go away now and go up against a good team and show that, as a team, we can cope at the next level."

When asked why Luton's form has been so up and down this season, Mackail-Smith said: "It's hard to put a finger on it – I think it's a lack of concentration."

"We're still very much in with a chance of doing something very good this season. We're working very hard as a team and as individuals."

SUPER STRIKER: Craig Mackail-Smith was prolific in his time at Peterborough
